THE ROMAN CATHOLIC GERMAN SCHOOL.

For several years there exists in this City, at No. 118, CALLE LIBERTAD, a Catholic German School, which, through the zeal and proficiency of the Masters, has given the most satisfactory results.

The Pupils are charged only a small sum Monthly, and, according to the Rules, the Poor are Educated Free.

The School receives no aid whatever from the Government or the Municipality, being supported only by a number of Resident Catholic Germans. Its financial position, therefore, is not such as could be desired, and, in order to improve it, a RAFFLE has been got up, the Prizes being given by various well-wishers. We hope that our Friends—Lady Friends in particular—and all supporters of Education will not withhold their aid. For this philanthropic purpose, several Articles of Handiwork have already been presented; and a Committee has been formed authorised to receive Donations, as well as to Sell the Tickets. They will duly notify the days for Exhibiting the Prizes, and for the Raffle.

It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

LOPEZ'S NEW HEADQUARTERS.

THE CAMP OF CERRO LEON.

It was our fortune in the beginning of 1864 to make a pleasure tour through that portion of Paraguay intersected by the railway that unites the city of Asuncion with the great rural centre, Villa Rica. This is one of the richest, most picturesque, and thickest inhabited districts of the Republic, and the railway traverses 100 miles of forest, lake, and mountain scenery in beautiful succession.

Cerro Leon was, at the time we speak of, a small plain at the foot of a mountain of that name (in English it signifies Lion's Hill), with the Cordillera or chain of Paraguari in the back ground: there were no signs of warfare, or the tented field. The tillers of the soil were busy with their 'copueras' of tobacco and cotton. The country smiled in peace and plenty. It would seem as if the Happy Valley of Rasselas were here in the heart of the South American continent, and that the inhabitants were far beyond the reach of strife, hatred, and fierce ambition.

The noonday sun mirrored itself in the silver bosom of Areguá, or threw down giant shadows from the towering peaks of Itaguá, Mbatovi, and Santa Tomé. The southern breezes wafted perfumes from the forest of Yaguaron across the plain of Pirayú, and the Arroyo de Estrella with murmuring cadence broke the stillness of the lowlands.

Just at the outbreak of the present war, at the beginning of 1865, Lopez chose the Cerro Leon for a camp of instruction for his army. It is distant about thirty miles from Asuncion, on the line of railway, and, therefore, most suitable as a place for reserve headquarters during the war. A few miles nearer the capital is a charming quinta, near Lake Ypecarai, where by latest accounts Mrs. Lynch and her sons were staying.

In case of the Allies occupying Asuncion, it is easy for Lopez to shift his camp further inland, towards Villa Rica. The intermediate country is, as we have said, a succession of woods and hills, which offer many strategic points. If the war be carried on into the interior it may become a repetition of the guerilla wars of Spain or Mexico, the termination of which will probably be farther than is generally anticipated.

OBSTACLES TO OUR COMMERCE.

We translate the following from the Republica:—

"For the last five days no vessel has been able either to enter or to leave the Riachuelo, and during the previous eight days they could only effect their entrance or exit with great difficulty, because of the low water in the canal. More than two hundred river vessels and launches have been detained there during all this time, causing great losses to our commerce. Important transactions of many houses of business have been interrupted, not having been able to receive the receipts of the produce which they had to land, and consequently were unable to receive the drafts for their value."

This fact proves not only the immediate necessity which exists for the canalisation of this stream; but also that when this is effected we must in many instances recur to the Lujan Railway, the construction of which should be commenced at once. Our commerce is increasing so fast that every effort we can make will not be too much to provide the required means of facilitating our transport. As we have always advocated progress we are now glad to see that our colleagues are awakened to our material interests, and will in future assist where we were for a long time pulling alone.

DEATH OF DR. CONYNGHAM.

Our English community was startled yesterday morning by the announcement that our esteemed fellow-citizen and physician, Dr. Conyngham had died suddenly on the previous night. It seems he was just retiring to bed when he complained of cold and called for a blanket, then suddenly dropped dead, either from apoplexy or heart-disease. Although the doctor had appeared in excellent health up to the moment of his death we learn that he had a premonitory attack on Wednesday evening, when he complained of a choking feeling in his chest.

Dr. Conyngham was a native of Enniskillen, Ireland, and made his medical studies in Dublin. He served for some years as a surgeon in the British navy, and subsequently settled in Montevideo. During his long and successful career of physician, first in Montevideo and afterwards in this city, he has gained for himself a high professional name and the esteem of a large circle of friends. His services during the terrible cholera that recently devastated this city were untiring, generous, and most successful. The British community sustain in his death a loss that is not easily made good. our little band of English physicians has been considerably reduced of late, and we regret to learn that Dr. Brown was, also, given over yesterday.

Apart from his professional capacity, Dr. Conyngham will be much regretted for the sincerity of his character. He had also a fund of anecdote about his early years, and he delighted in recalling the associations of his boyhood. His eldest son is one of the leading physicians in Entre-Rios: we sympathise with him and the other members of the family on so sudden and severe a loss.

The funeral will take place to-day at 10 A. M. from the residence of deceased, 89 Calle Corrientes. Requiescat in pace.

A WEEK LATER FROM CHILE.

By private letter we have the following:—

Valparaiso, August 2nd.

The stagnation observable at the beginning of the month which has just expired, has extended into its second fortnight, owing to the lack of exportation in country produce and the decline in the price of copper, which has naturally contributed to the depreciation of articles of consumption, because mining operations, even on a small scale, fail to cover expenses, owing to the low prices obtained for ores, obliging miners to stop work until they receive better offers.

The same dullness has been perceptible in white shirtings, prints &c., for there is not a single importing house that has not goods to offer. For the sake of obtaining the high prices they are ordered to ask, they have waited until the present month when they hope to make up for the disadvantageous and trifling sales of the last two months.

During the last few days the depression has also extended to Bank, Insurance and Railway stocks &c., in expectation of the returns which each of these institutions presents semi yearly, most of which show a brilliant result, especially those of the Banks.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The telegraph announced the arrival yesterday morning in Montevideo of the President elect on board the Aunis, and he is expected up to-day. Preparations for his reception are actively carried on, and to-day will be a gala day, to end at night in a grand patriotic performance at Colon in honor of the occasion. We are happy to give a hearty welcome to the distinguished Argentine in whom are centered all the hopes of the country. Hurrah for Sarmiento,

There was no arrival from Montevideo yesterday, and we were consequently deprived of our usual exchanges from the sister city. There are no news of importance from Europe, the Aunis mails having been anticipated by Captain Bruce's steamer.

Mr. Gould, lately H.B.M.'s Chargé d'Affaires, whose departure for Paraguay on a special mission had been prematurely announced for yesterday, leaves to-day in the Venezia for the seat of war. Whatever may be the object of Mr. Gould's journey, the great tact and ability displayed by him while acting as our representative here raise a confident anticipation that he will bring to a successful issue the mission entrusted to him. We understand that on his return from Paraguay, Mr. Gould will at once proceed home, and we shall regret to lose in him not only an accomplished gentleman but one who by universal acknowledgment will ever hold a distinguished position among the English diplomatists that have been officially connected with the River Plate.

There being no steamer in port yesterday prepared to go to Montevideo, the supplementarg mail for the Arno could not be dispatched. A notice at the British Consulate informs the public that the letters already received will be forwarded by the first opportunity. The City of Brussels leaves this on Tuesday next, 1st. of September, and it is expected she will reach Rio de Janeiro before the sailing of the Royal Mail Steamer for Southampton.

The latest news from Paraguay has had its effect on the price of gold at Rio Janeiro. Sovereigns, at the departure of the French packet, were selling at 13 mil-reis.

We learn that shipments of gold are now being made from Montevideo to Rio: the Brazilian Finance commission no longer draw.

The fluctuations in National Bonds have caused a repercussion through all grades of our society. It would seem as if even the orange-venders had been caught by the Bolsa contagion, and gambling is now the order of the day.

Respecting the new American Minister we learn that the choice will positively fall on either Gen. Devins or Mr. Worthington. It is said General M'Mahon was proposed to succeed Mr. Washburn in Paraguay, but the Senate had not ratified the appointment.

By a strange coincidence the English races at Roldan, Santa Fé, come off on the same day as at Randall's. We shall try to have the Standard represented at both.

We read of the arrival of two Brazilian gunboats at Salto in the Uruguay.

The Patria says that Sñr. Sarmiento does not propose coming up in the French packet, but has taken up his abode pro tem. in Montevideo.

Father Dutiel, of Belgrano, son of the distinguished French sculptor, Colonel Dutiel, has been named Cura of Lujan.

Capt. Bruce's new steamer, El Capitan, is to be placed on the Rosario and Santa Fé route. We are glad to see Capt. Bruce, looking so strong and well.

With regard to the Corrientes difficulty, the general impression seems to be, judging by what the Tribuna of yesterday says, that an amicable settlement may be expected to put an end to the question. General Caceres is reported to be on the point of making his submission to the National Government, which will undoubtedly be the best guarantee for the restoration of peace and tranquillity to the province of Corrientes.

The great topic of conversation in our fashionable circles is the proposed ball to be given at the Coliseum for the Invalidos on the 7th, and the Progreso ball definitely arranged for the 17th. Judging from former experience two balls so close together cannot be both successful. Many people regret that the promoters of the Invalido ball should have fixed on the day preceding the great race meeting near Jeppener under the auspices of the incipient Jockey Club of Buenos Ayres, by which they have prevented the co-operation of parties already compromised to attend the races. The price of the ticket is, we hear, $300, and we cannot applaud the taste of the commission in having adopted the same system established for some mask balls, by which only gentlemen have to pay, and ladies are admitted free.

The commission appointed to prepare the reception to the President-Elect has passed a circular to all the directors of schools in the city, inviting them to attend with their pupils at the landing-place on the day of Mr. Sarmiento's arrival. The Director-General, D. Luis José de la Peña, has already expressed his acquiescence in the proposed step.

Colonel Muratore has placed on exhibition at Messrs. Fusoni and Maveroff four oil pictures representing different episodes of the battle of Trafalgar. There is no doubt these works show very praiseworthy merits, but we noticed with surprise the total absence of any reference to the great hero who made Trafalgar memorable to all eternity.

A false alarm having been spread yesterday of the arrival here of Sr. Sarmiento a number of people rushed through the cold wind to the mole, and discovered to their cost having been made the victims of a hoax. Most of them however consoled themselves by visiting the celebrated Paraguayan canoe, placed on exhibition by the Standard.

The Yi arrived yesterday, and we salute our talented colleague D. Hector Varela on his return from Humaita. We look forward with anticipated pleasure to the account of his visit, which as everything that comes from his pen is sure to be highly interesting. The only intelligence of any moment from the seat of war is the full confirmation of the occupation of Timbó by the allied troops.

Miss Ramona Sanchez's grand Concert will inevitably take place this evening, unless the state of the weather is such as to render imperative its postponement. A very large and fashionable audience may be anticipated. An invitation by telegram has been sent to Sr. Sarmiento, which he is sure to accept if he comes up to-day. We understand that the fair cantatrice intends visiting Europe in the course of a month or two. Mr. Phillips requests us to state that this is positively his last appearance in Buenos Ayres this season, as his business engagements will not allow him time to practice or rehearse. He says he is letter perfect in his comic Spanish speech, dedicated to the fair Porteñas.

The announcement of the sudden demise of our much-respected countryman Dr. Conyngham, threw a gloom over the city yesterday, as it was only the day before he had been seen going about the streets, apparently in the enjoyment of perfect health. We regret to have to announce also that Dr. Brown's name may shortly have to be added to the long list of eminent English medical practioners who have been carried off from among us within a very short period. He is reported to be fast sinking, and was yesterday given over by his medical attendants.

The Circus company were obliged to suspend the performance announced for Thursday, on account of the high wind that obliged Mr. Aymar to take down the large canvass roofing of the Circus. Should the weather not offer again any impediment, the performance will take place to-morrow.

Well-informed people seem to think that Sr. Sarmiento will remain a few days in Montevideo, and not come on at once here. In Colon Theatre, however, a grand extra performance will be given in case of his arrival. 'Yone' is the opera selected for the occasion, and, there is no doubt, that the house will be crowded to excess.

We have to correct a slight mistake made the other day as to the exact branch of business now carried on by Mr. Flower, of 40½ Calle San Martin. He is now giving up the haberdashery trade, and intends confining himself to that line known in England as a "man mercer's" business—viz., shirts, collars, cravats, besides fancy fixings for the male sex. His lime juice and glycerine soap is an elegant preparation for creating and promoting a healthy action of the skin. Judging from the prices of these and the economic soaps, we think he will give value for money, and his system of marking the price of every article is very fair. As a recent settler amongst us, and especially as a beginner, we cannot do less than heartily wish him success.

CATTLE FOR ENGLISH MARKETS

The other day we mentioned the arrival of Mr. Baillie, with a project to export live cattle from the River Plate to England. The subjoined documents furnish some particulars of the enterprise.

Richmond, July 15.

To Don Cristobal Aguirre, Finance Minister.

Most esteemed Sir,—

I beg to introduce to you Mr. Alex. Baillie, who goes out to represent a company that is about to be formed for the exportation of sheep and cattle from Buenos Ayres. As the object in view is one of such importance for the welfare of the country, I am confident the Government will gladly contribute to its success by giving all the assistance in its power. Besides the particulars furnished by Mr. Strangman, agent for the company, in the enclosed document, Mr. Baillie will be able to give you further explanations on the matter.

I remain, &c.,

NORBERTO DE LA RIESTRA.

London, July 9.

The undersigned present themselves before the Hon. Congress and say—That they seek to establish an export trade of cows and sheep from the River Plate.

That for this purpose they must incur heavy responsibilities—1st. In fitting up and despatching a light and suitable screw steamer capable of conveying 500 head of horned cattle and as many sheep, besides fodder; 2ndly. In building a line of at least 7 screw steamers, at a cost say of £250,000 sterling.

We, therefore, respectfully beg, that in consideration of such outlay, and of our obliging ourselves to export annually at least 5,000 head of cattle (unless prevented by prohibition in England in case of epidemic, or such other cause, or from a temporary disarrangement to the steamers or such other unforeseen event), we beg that Congress grant us the sole and exclusive right of exporting horned cattle and sheep from the River Plate to Europe, in steamers built for the purpose, during a term of 7 years from date of such concession.

We also beg a total exemption from port duties for the cattle exported, and the concession of all rights and immunities proper to war vessels in favor of our steamers.

Signed on behalf of the Company,

RICHARD THOMAS STRANGMAN.

GENERAL URQUIZA'S REPLY.

Uruguay, August 23, 1868.

The Government of Entre Rios to his Excellency the Minister of the Interior.

Your Excellency's favour of 17th is to hand, and, being desirous of carrying out as far as on me depends the noble sentiments contained in Y. E.'s former note, in favour of peace and concord among brother peoples, and confident that Y. E. will not depart from the inspirations of prudence and patriotism which you state to be your most constant desire, I shall limit myself as much as possible, in reply, to inform Y. E. of my decision to prove to the National Government that my power shall never be put forth to compromise the security or privileges with which I have been entrusted.

In accordance with the observations contained in your favour of the 8th, part of the troops which garrisoned the frontier were disbanded, leaving a single division of cavalry encamped in Basualdo, for the purpose of guarding the border threatened by loose bands, who avail themselves of the disturbed state of the province of Corrientes, without dependence on either the forces of Y. E. in Goya, or those of the legal authorities overturned by sedition.

Some other forces which are being mobilized and disbanded successfully on the centre of the province is solely with the intention of affecting the necessary organization and discipline. The instructions issued to the authorities of the frontiers are only to repel any sort of invasion by armed force, which cannot do otherwise than spread disorder through the territories which it is the duty of the Government to defend.

These instructions have been limited to the aforesaid object, for it cannot be feared that those who obey Y. E.'s orders would endanger the security and immunities of this province, which knows how well to appreciate them and respect the constituted authorities created by those institutions, for the foundation of which it has deserted its first and most glorious efforts.

The undersigned does not care to enter into a long discussion for the purpose of proving the fact that he will ever be, as he has always been, the most staunch supporter of the Constitution and the authorities by it created. The events in Corrientes and their antecedents defend our Government from the error which your Government considers it to have incurred.

The legitimate authority overturned by the revolution, the Governor imprisoned, and legislature dissolved and persecuted, so that there was no one found to demand the general intervention—these and other acts which are of public notoriety, have prevented this Government from viewing, in this lamentable situation of Corrientes, a mere party squabble, unworthy of public interest or consideration.

These provinces, bound together by their very position, the disturbance of order in one of them, the contempt for the institutions which guarantee public peace, the interests and the rights of citizens, cannot but affect the others—all are affected, sir, by a riot which assumes the character and proportions of the Corrientes disturbances.

Entre Rios, like all the other provinces, should naturally interest itself to uphold the moral force of these institutions by that strict impassibility and respect for law which the constitution itself recommends in preference to force, except in extreme cases.

For this reason it was that at the first moment of this sedition our government hastened to acquaint Y. E., judging that in the impossibility of the imprisoned authorities to communicate with you, the general Government might be misinformed and thus lead to the most unfortunate success of this disgraceful revolution.

For this reason it is that now again I approach Y. E. as I have been forced to do, that in the orbit of your attributes you would assist in the re-establishment of the legitimate authorities of order outraged in Corrientes, for thus only can you fulfil the duties which the law imposes, and regain public confidence.

God preserve your Excellency

JUSTO J. DE URQUIZA.
JOSE J. LAGUSTUME.

THE NEW TOWN OF OLABARRIA

We take from the Patria the following interesting details about this new town:—

D. Juan Czetz, land-surveyor, has come back to town, after concluding the mission entrusted to him by the Provincial Government, of marking out the new town of Olabarria, at the sources of the Arroyo Tapalqué.

This town is situated in the same spot which Comandante A. Barros, the present commanding officer of that frontier, chose for his encampment two years ago. During this short period ten lots of land, one hundred yards square, were settled upon, and if the Government had not left the troops unpaid for twenty-one months, double that amount of land would be already settled upon.

The situation of the new town is very picturesque. It is the centre of a vast and magnificent amphitheatre, formed by the volcanic hills of Sotuyo, Las dos Hermanas, Sierra de la China, and Sierra Chica.

The land is highly fertile, and if the Provincial Government will only proceed, with enlightened generosity, it will be easy to secure on the confines of the great Pampas a centre of civilisation and agriculture rivalling Chivilcoy itself. More than 100 chacras have already been petitioned for, whilst the delineation was going on with the condition that they should at least be of 45 squares of 150 yards.

The Arroyo Tapalqué is similar to the watercourses from the Cordilleras. It has an immense body of water, beautifully clear and crystaline, rushing over waterfalls two or three feet high, and suggestive of naiads and poetic dreams. Here some industrious Frenchmen propose availing themselves of the natural advantages of the place to erect a mill that will be a worthy competitor to the mill of Dhers and Vares in Azul which cost over a million of dollars.

Reserving further details for another occasion, we wish to call the attention of the Government to the great irregularity that exists with regard to landed property in the Azul, where nobody can ascertain what belongs to him, and where, in consequence, the greatest confusion is caused in rents, judicial sales, &c. This state of things is due to the fact that three successive Governments have not chosen to order the land surveyors who made the general survey five years ago to proceed to the delivery of the various suertes of land in conformity with said survey.

THE RIVER LUJAN RAILWAY.

(Communicated.)

For many years past the grand problem, which has exercised the ingenuity of our financiers, has been how to diminish the expenses and risks attending our present port. Numerous have been the proffers to effect this purpose, and now that the new President is so soon to occupy his position, they are all brought before us again, and with the old ones, many of a recent date.

The Ensenada was, a few years since, the only place which would suit us as a port, and now it is the Rio Lujan. The latter is, without doubt, destined to fulfill an important position, as a port for our up-river trade, affording as it does the advantages of deep water and perfect shelter, and, with some little expense, may be made to afford a port, even for our sea-going vessels of ordinary draught. The best proof of its capability, in these respects, is the fact, that at the present time all along the river side, between the arroyos Tigre and Las Conchas, there are lying vessels and large river steamboats for repairs and overhauling. They lie directly against the shore, where, by the scheme of Messrs. Rubio and Foley, it is proposed to build a mole nine hundred metres long. This mole will be connected with the Western Railway, at Floresta Station, by means of a railway passing through the districts of Las Conchas, San Fernando, San Isidro, San Martin, and Las Flores.

Arrangements are being made with the Western Railway for the transport of traffic to the 11 de Setiembre and the Parque Station.

Close to the Lujan Terminus, it is proposed by a well-known firm of steamboat owners to build a graving-dock, the plans of which are at present being prepared; and then, without doubt, the River Lujan will offer facilities hitherto unknown in our river trade, for the cheap and easy landing and discharging of vessels. Besides which all the upper river products can be immediately forwarded to the best market, at a cost which will probably be less than at present paid for cartage alone.

We understand from Mr. Robertson, the engineer of the railway, that his plans will be shortly completed, and we hope to receive from him a copy of his report on this important subject.

Another and much larger scheme, starting from the same river, has also been proposed by Messrs. Laurent and Co., which at least proves the importance of this river; and, although we believe that there is a sufficient amount of traffic for all these works, yet we think that it might be advantageous to combine this latter scheme with the Floresta line, and the proposed Lobos branch, thus avoiding a clashing of interests, and all joining to swell the traffic of the Western Railway.

MERCATOR.

AN ECHO FROM THE ANDES.

CHAP. II.

The Inca Bridge—Hot Mineral Baths.

We were yet below the snow which at that time of the year, does not obstruct the actual throughfare, but for five months in the year these Andes are quite impassable, even at this pass which is considered the best in Chile.

Our 'viajero' now informs us that we are now in "La Republica Argentina" and having commenced our descent, in three days we hope to reach Mendoza which is the first town of that province we shall come to, and is at the foot of the Andes. But what can we expect to see there? A once gay and prosperous city, the capital of the province of that name, but the earthquake of 1861 will have ruined it.

The Government of this republic have on their side of these mountains erected at distances of about four miles apart some sturdy little brick built sheds, which must be invaluable to the traveller crossing during the seasons of snow or sleet: in the distance they have the appearance of bee-hives only on a larger scale than is required by those honey-producing insects; more so because ther are entirely without windows, and have no doors to open or shut.

One of the most remarkable sights of this pass, and of which we have so often heard is the Puente del Inca, a natural bridge, a really well-formed arch, the radius of which would certainly equal one of the spans of Westminster new bridge; close to this are the hot mineral baths, of which there are three, at different temperatures; the water is very clear, but quite alive with tiny globules, which cover the bather the instant he enters, and the surface sparkles in the most brilliant manner. The water is supposed to be a remedy for rheumatism, and the Argentines not unfrequently go there, hoping to rid themselves of that painful malady.

These wonders were too precious to part ourselves from in a day, so we remained at that spot nearly four days; after which we continue our journey and when within sixty miles from Mendoza we find an old Argentine with his two sons, working what they call a gold mine, but there seems to be no actual mine; they have the whole range of the mountains, and one of the sons is away with his mule, picking up any good-looking bits of Quartz whilst the other two remain at the hut working the cradle: there is a small but continual stream there, enabling them to extract a few grains of the precious metal daily, but their stock of tools is very limited, and I don't think they could be obtained even if they had the desire and necessary dollars to purchase them—at least in that province.

A day's journey between walls of red earth from which are growing little tufts of the yellow calcelaria brings us into a somewhat better road, and we at last come to an Estancia or sheepfarm; it is the first one on that side of the Andes. Here we learn that the whole province of Mendoza is in a terrible state of revolution, and that the Colorados or Red Party, calling themselves Federales, are carrying all before them, as there are no troops of the Government nearer than Cordova, who have only just heard of this state of affairs. This is not intelligence of a cheering nature, but we hasten on, and arrive in what remains of that town; the ruins on every side are dreadful, for it must be remembered that after the earthquake of 1861, not one house remained, the houses were built of adobes, a large brick made of mud and dried in the sun; the churches seem to have been better off in this respect, having been built of red bricks.

There is now little more than one street, and that has been made by clearing away the ruins, and a few temporary sheds, erected on each side. From these residences the bandera or flag of the revolutionary party is shown. As we go on, matters seem to be improving somewhat, and we find a hotel, and a few shops kept by Italians. Passing a long row of poplar trees, we reach the plaza, a large open space, in which there are two prisons. Part of one of these new buildings is used for transacting the affairs of the then ruling party. Our earliest object was to obtain passports to enable us to travel through the next province, San Luis, where this revolution was supposed to have extended: we should then be next to the province of Cordova, and be nearing the Rio de la Plata. Here, as we expected, we met with many obstacles, and found that no passports were to be granted.

There had been some executions there the same morning for political offences, the particulars of which we could not learn. The mass of the newly created army had marched to San Juan, another distinct province, about 150 miles to the north, but situated, like Mendoza, at the foot of the Andes. They had gone there to conquer that province, and, until these revolutionists arrived there, the inhabitants were faithful to the Government; but the few hundred remaining troops left at Mendoza were the most disreputable looking characters: they had no uniforms, and a great many even without hats. Those wearing red shirts were regarded as especially military, and they each had some kind of firearm, such as an old flint musket or common single barrel gun. The mounted soldiers were, if possible, provided for to a lesser extent. Imagine a tall, unwashed, dark-looking individual, with a bullock goad or a bamboo cane, and the half of a broken sheep shear tied on the end, calling himself a lancer! Some were patriotic enough to attach a piece of red cotton handkerchief to their weapon.

All chance of continuing our journey seemed gone and we even thought of retracing our steps to Chile, but as the paper money we had, seemed useless, while everything was in that distured state, it was necessary to do something without much loss of time. A conveyance answering the purpose of a coach, was starting for San Juan, on the following day, I then thought of sending one of my two compañeros on to that town, in order to discount some of our billetes on Buenos Ayres, and learn if there was any hope of obtaining passports from there; this was agreed to and one of our party left by that coach that was to return to Mendoza in ten days; we were of course anxiously awaiting its arrival, and until it came and we received news from that province, our only pastime was to wander amongst the ruins of the old city with which nothing seems to have been done beyond cleaning the streets and making thoroughfares where thoroughfares were.

Of all places most calculated to bring about dismal recollections, it certainly must be Mendoza, on every side there is something to remind us of death; the miles of fallen houses and gardens that were torn up, now only can be traced by the heaps of rubbish and the scattered remains of things that were; skulls and human bones are here to be counted by the dozen, and where they will probably remain for years.

Vines bearing their delicious fruit have sprung through these fallen masses, and seem intent on hiding them. Durasnos or peaches are here also to be found in abundance but seem to be growing in such profusion as to make them little cared for,

We hear that there will be an execution of a native deserter, on the following morning, and probably an other for some political offence, to take place early soon after daybreak it is hinted that he is a foreigner so we intend going. Rain has been falling all night and the roads are flooded; certainly not much indcement to ride out and witness the suffering of two fellow creatures; but we were at the scene of action, a very small crowd from the lookers on, each poor wretch is sitting on his "cajon muerto" with his hands tied, one with his head tied up, and suddenly seemed to recollect it, so snatches the bandage impetuously from his head and looks wildly around; the other is a rather older man, and has his face buried in his hands, they both appear to be natives of the country. A small band of ragged soldiers are standing near smoking their cigarettes, waiting for their officer to come up and give the word; this soon takes place, and one of the soldiers separates himself from the others, stops a moment to relight his cigarette, walks up to these ill fated men, seizes one by the hair, draws his 'facon' from his belt, and deliberately cuts his throat: the same cruel death awaits the other, but happily their sufferings are not delayed; there is no priest to show them a crucifix or whisper a few words of their faith in their ears, or even a friend to bid them a farewell from this world. We could not learn what was the actual crime of the political offender, beyond that he was one of the Unitarios, a name by which the Colorados or Revolutionists know the opposition, or Government party.

THE LATE DEBATING SOCIETY.

Kent.—Vex not his ghost: O, let him pass! he hates him that would upon the rack of this rough world stretch him out longer.
Edgar.—O, he is gone indeed.
Kent.—The wonder is he hath endured so long. He but usurp'd his life.
KING LEAR.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen,

In a recent number of the "Standard" I observed a letter from 'A Member' of the above deceased Society, and, barring an abrupt beginning and an incoherency here and there, it is very fairly put together—for a Member of a Debating Society.

To the first part of this communication I have nothing to say except that it almost brought tears [of laughter] to the eyes; nor need we wonder at 'Member' feeling 'small' if even a little boy [provided, I suppose, he was a debating boy] would have been warmly welcomed to the meagre meeting in the spacious halls of the British Library.

It is to the latter part of your correspondent's epistle that I take exception, wherein he characterises 'ye sportes of boxing, billiard-playing, &c.,' as 'highly intellectual'—for this is evidently 'sarkasm,' else why would he in the same paragraph contemptuously term them 'little?'

If boxing, flirting, billiard-playing, drinking, moving about cafés, cock-fighting, sleeping, smoking, and other Oriental pastimes are 'little,' I would ask what are great? Surely not what 'Member' appears to recommend—viz., knowledge of the world and of ourselves. It's true, some old heathen—who, I hope, lived long enough to know better—a long time ago, in answer to a question put to him by a disciple almost as benighted as himself, replied, 'know thyself:' and would give us to believe that in this is comprised most of man's duty. For my part, I would willingly give all the knowledge of myself—which isn't much—to be honored as the discoverer of a new liquor, to be able to keep my hat at a right angle, or make fifty 'cannons' running.

Men like 'Member,' I dare say, are great readers, and possess a key to the pages of Locke, Hobbes, Berkley, Mill, and mystics of that sort, and can find what one calls 'beauties' in Chaucer, in Spenser, in the old dramatists, and modern poets—if any of these parties can tell me how to roll a paper cigar, or run a hundred yards in nine seconds, I may possibly look 'em up before our next Athletic Meeting.

Unless I can by these means easily—mind, easily—obtain reliable information on such abstruse subjects as the above, I shall continue to revel in my present condition, and sign myself,

CALIBAN.

MISCELLANY.

The following details as to the manufacture of champagne are given in one of this day's papers. As you are aware, this popular wine can only be made with the produce of the best vintages. The unmixed wine is left in wood for one year, at the expiration of which time it is bottled with extreme care, and with corks of the very best quality. Each bottle is laid in a horizontal position, which position is gradually altered till at the end of a year the bottle is as it were standing on its cork; the natural sediment or lees, or, to use the French term, the 'macadam' has concentrated itself on the cork, the liquor itself being now of a bright amber tint which is described as beyond the power of any painter to render. Naturally the removal of the 'macadam', which is effected by an experienced person, who uncorks the bottle, and suddenly jerks out the cork so as at the same time to withdraw the sediment, leaves a vacuum in the bottle. The liquor, poured in to fill up each bottle is composed of white wine, sugar-candy, and old brandy in proportion according to the palates of the future consumers of the wine. Eight per cent. of sugar-candy is the proportion for wine intended for Great Britain, America, Canada, and Russia—that is, the cold climates; 12 per cent. of sugar-candy for home consumption; 18 per cent. for Italy, Spain, Tunis, Morocco, Brazil, and Mexico. The brandy used in the mixture added to wine intended for northern climates is eight or ten years old. The wine thus completed is recorked with corks imported from Catalonia at the rate of 8f. or 10f. the hundred; the bottles having been manufactured at Folembry and Soissons; the former being on the property of the Baroness de Pailly, the Comte de Fitzjames, and M. de Grandmaison, the agent of which, M. Laboche, was once in the service of the Orleans family. The glass factory of Soissons belongs to MM. de Violaine. Thus far I have brought you to the third year of the preparation of the wine, which year is the most important of its existence, as its final bouquet is acquired during this third period. If its possessors are sufficiently rich they keep it in bottle a fourth year before selling it to the great wine merchants. Its value in wood, when charged with macanam, is £20 the cask; that value is doubled and trebled every year. The finest vintages are in the following order:—Bouzy, Verzenay, Sillery, Ai. Champagne growers prefer Verzenay, in a good year to Bouzy. The next in value are Avize, Avenay, Mareuil, Cramant, Dizy. The vintage of 1834 has disappeared from the market. There still exist some specimens of 1846; 1865 and 1866 are now the most popular.

From "the glorious vintage of Champagne" to cigars, the transition is natural; £200 worth of the "noxious weed" is sold in one single shop in Paris, on the Boulevard des Capucines, which depôt belongs to the Government manufactory, and excites a considerable amount of jealousy from its humbler rivals. The snuff and tobacco shops in Paris are granted by Government to the widows of general officers, colonels, or men who have served their country in any of the public offices, but whose families are in distressed circumstances. The ladies who, in acknowledgment of their husband's or father's services, have obtained a 'debit de tabac,' naturally do not sit behind the counter, but let their shop to women accustomed to the trade, who profit enormously by the speculation, more especially as they are likewise bound by the Government to sell postage stamps at the same time, which sale attracts a great number of customers. Thus, the small shop at which you have purchased a 'trabucos' for a few sous may be the chief means of supporting a lady of rank and distinction; and to obtain the grant of a snuff and cigar depôt requires no small amount of interest with Ministers and great men in general.

ON CHANGE.

	August 28, 1868.
Ounces	400
Sovereigns	122½
Patacons	25
National Bonds	54

The arrival of the Presiden elect, Mr. Sarmiento, caused a reaction in the National Bond market. The first sale was 51¾ for 31st inst. Buyers appeared on all sides, and prices ran quickly up to 54 in the liquidation room. For 30th of September there is a strong speculation; prices to-day for that date were quite out of proportion to the rate for cash. If the same extreme rates continued to be paid on time, Bonds will naturally rise, although several large holders have been lately realising.

In Gas Shares 30 were sold at 60 prem. The prosperity of this Company has induced many parties to invest in these shares, and they have an upward tendency.

Discounts continue easy. The best sign of the abundance of money is the present demand for house property and building sites.

The passing of the Tramway Bill was much talked of to-day. Holders of property in the suburbs are in expectation of an immediate benefit in this onward movement. It is hoped capitalists will come forward and introduce a well managed tramway company.

Our special reporter at the South Plaza notes the following sales:—

1200 ar. in one lot, mixed	48
315 ar. good mestiza	52
One lot lamb's wool	43
Do. loose wool	36

Dry hides—320 camp matadero, 128. 150 do, 130.

Grease—700 ar. in four lots, 33½.

Capones and sheep—2,500 at 28, and capones 33.

Wool.—About 35,000 arrobes have come forward this month, and sales reach 55,000 arrobes, leaving in stock 70,000 arrobes. Prices continue the same as last month. The bulk of the Wool in stores is of medium and inferior quality. Buyers are looking forward to the new clip which is expected to be very good in every respect.

Total receipts from commencement of season 4,325,000 arrobes, against 3,829,000 arrobes at same period of last year.

Cordova, &c.—We notice some sales of unwashed Cordova at 21rls., and 50 ballots washed Santiago at 25rls.; of Entre Rios and Corrientes some few small lots have been sold. Stock, limited.

Sheepskins.—Heavy supplies from the saladeros, mataderos, and the camp, and mostly of good quality; inferior kinds neglected. We quote as follows:—Saladeros and matadero, best classed, 12 to 13rls.; camp, 7 to 10rls.; lambs, 8 to 9rls.

Hair—Arrivals in the plazas continue small, and prices rule firm for Horse Hair of all descriptions. Cow Hair rather dull. Demand has slackened for River Hair.

Ostrich Feathers—Sales, 15,000 lbs., at our quotations; stock 50,000 lbs., mostly in bundles, and of inferior description.

RAM AUCTION.
Mr. BENJAMIN NAZAR will Dispose of by Public Sale, at No. 23, CALLE CHACABUCO, at ELEVEN, A.M., on TUESDAY, 10th of September, 37 Pure Negretti Rams, and an equal number of Magnificent Rambouillet and Negretti Crces. The former are no less suited as Sires, on account of their purè blood, than for their neat type, faultless proportions, and thick heavy fleece. The latter will be found to combine the best qualifications of both races. This cross is decidedly the most useful animal, being much hardier and larger than either of the pure breeds. The wool is also greatly prized by Manufacturers and Farmers desirous of making Sheepbreeding a lucrative business, who must sooner or later bring their flocks to this level.
In 1867, the first Lot of this class were Auctioned at the Estancia, Santa Maria. Large numbers of old, experienced and intelligent Campmen attended and expressed their admiration of the half-breeds. The brilliant result of the past year more than justified them. Mr. Ernesto Oldendorf's care will not, therefore, have been spent in vain on the present Animals, which from the 13th instant to Day of Sale will be on View at 23 Calle Chacabuco. 237,xp,a28

37—Carneros Negretti, sangre pura, entre los buenos vienen padres, todo lo mejor que se puede desear, por ser lindos tipos, bien desarrollados, gran cantidad de lana larga y buen caracter.
57—Carneros cruza de Negretti y Rambouillet, puros aumentadores en lana y tamaño.—El vellon que rinden estos animales es inmenso y de muvalor por los solicitodos que son hoy en Europa las lanas de hebra larga, para la fabricacion de paños.—El año 67 dimos un remate de carneros de la estancia de Santa Maria, y todos los criados inteligentes o imparciales que examinaron el lote de carneros, que fue vendido los apreciaron dandoles el mayor valor, como los que crian en las afamadas cabañas de Europa, y a mas tienen estos la ventaja de ser aclimatados, lo que los hace preferibles a los de otras cabañas.
La edad de los carneros padres Negretti Rambouillet es de 16 a 18 meses, y todos han sido esquilados en Setiembre del año ppdo y dieron un brillante resultado—Los recomendamos a todos los Sres. que se dedican a criar ovejas pasen a examinar los magnificos carneros que presenta ese año el inteligente Sr. D. Enesto Oldendorff.
NOTA—El 13 de Agosto estaran en exhibicion Calle de Chaenbuco No. 23, para que con tiempo puedan ser apreciados. 238,xp,a28

Los numeros. 11, 302, 40, y 173, tienen la clasificacion de aumentadores y tienen todas aquellas buenas condiciones de un carnero padre aumentador en masa de lana y hebra larga hoy solicitadas por todos esportadores de lana.
A los Sres estancieros les recomendamos pasen por nuestra casa a examinar los carneros que presenta el Sr. Stegman, y los Sres. inteligentes encontrarán en esta partida animales todo lo mejor que se puede desear en clase de lana. 229,xp,a28

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY
OF

HAS CURED THOUSANDS!

FAREWELL, A LONG FAREWELL, to Consumption, Affections of the Chest, Hooping-Cough, Chronic Bronchitis, and Asthma.
All sufferers from these dangerous Diseases will experience immediate relief even in the most desperate cases.
Several eminent Members of the Medical Profession, whose testimony may be relied upon with the most perfect confidence, have obtained the most satisfactory results in cases of Consumption by the use of this valuable specific—in fact,

THE SYSTEM OF THE PATIENT UNDERGOES A COMPLETE TRANSFORMATION.

Professor PENEDO feels assured that the above-mentioned discovery will always maintain a vast superiority over all other Preparations, as it is generally known that these invariably contain a large quantity of mineral matter, which is most hurtful to the human frame.
This SYRUP is prepared solely from one of those valuable vegetable productions for which the surrounding country of the Brazils is so justly famed.
The annexed Testimonial has been received, and is one of many thousands, testifying to the medicinal virtues of Penedo's Syrup:—

"I, the Undersigned, Chevalier of the Imperial Order of the Cross, of the Order of the Rose, and of the Military Order of San Benito d'Aviz, Brigadier Surgeon-in-Chief of the Military Board of Health, all by the grace of His Majesty the Emperor, qualified in Medicine and Surgery by the Academy Medico-Cirugica of Rio de Janeiro, &c., certify that I have employed with very happy results among different classes of Patients, both civil and military, the Syrup, so-called, of Penedo, in Pulmonary Affections, even in infirmities decided to be in the incipienc of Tuberculous Consumption, the symptoms which characterised the disease completely disappearing with its use. One case presented itself to me among many others, although more marked by the extraordinary circumstances connected with it: it was that of the illustrious Señora D. Joaquina B. de Carvalho Affonso, lady of the illustrious Sr. J. F. Affonso, residing in the Rua du Cadeia corner of the Misericordine, who, being considered in Consumption by an affection of the lungs, is to-day radically restored. The above is the truth, to confirm which I pass the present Certificate, in order that the illustrious Sr. Penedo, Pharmaceutical Chemist, may make whatever use of it he may think fit.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.
101--Cangallo--103.
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.
The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.
The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.
These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.
The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.
The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.
The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.
The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.
The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.
Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.
